"He is a strong leader with a proven system to help others achieve their goals"

— Shari Soelberg

My name is Steve Jackson, I am a Wellness Advocate and this is my Doterra story that took me from obscurity to success

I was born in a city in the south of England called Southampton. I recall having an enjoyable upbringing with my mother, father and a younger brother. I had a relatively normal life. I was terrible at school, but managed to get an apprenticeship that kept me in warm socks and cheap holidays.

The word that would describe my early years would be "content"

I have been in the network marketing industry for many years, however, it wasn't something I planned or even considered. It was only when my wife was looking for a home business when she was pregnant I took an interest. Apart from her increased income, my biggest shock was how her persona and confidence changed over that period. I can remember being annoyed at her newly found independence. I realised later the positive influence it had on our personal relationship and life in general.

She continued to be successful in her business for some years while she cared for our daughter. In retrospect she was using her business as an outlet where she could be more than just a housewife and mother.

The point of this story is that this was the time I began to understand the power of network marketing. I realised that personal development was the core to her success and would be the core of mine.

Since then, I have become an entrepreneur, network marketer, online marketer and podcaster. I feel it ticks all the boxes for my wife and I and gives us the financial freedom and the global independence we have always desired. This means we can choose where and how we live our lives as long as there is a internet connection.

Why Doterra and how my Doterra journey begun?

Unlike most people who join Doterra, I was a man and I was not really looking for an essential oils business. However, I was looking for a home business or network marketing business. I ran a few network marketing businesses in the past with modest success and felt a change was needed. My wife had been talking about essential oils so it was in my mind to find an essential oil business to satisfy both our needs.

There were a few companies offering high quality essential oils, but after long consideration I opted for Doterra. The process of choosing the right company was simply down to a few factors that were important to me at the time such as:

- Free webshop and back office
- The product reviews were outstanding
- The start up cost was low
- Relatively new company
- Outstanding potential growth
- High income very possible
- Could be run from anywhere in the world

Their Doterra guide broke everything down into simple bites of information, so even someone like me could understand. I have laid it out below for the readers convenience:

Learning to be a Doterra wellness advocate

In the early days I was a bit worried that I would not have enough knowledge to share the essential oils with my customers. I soon learnt that I did not need to be an essential oils expert to make money from Doterra. That didn't mean I did not need to learn anything, because the core to success is about personal development and learning new skills.

As the years went on and I learnt more about Doterra I found that achieving goals were far easier than I first imagined. This is not to say that it was easy, because anything worth having is not easy.

The methods and mindset for being successful comes in many formats. The most fundamental key to success as a Doterra wellness advocate is taken action. Without taken action, nothing will happen and if nothing happens, success is unlikely.

Today I have achieved my goals and much more with my globally developing team. They are successful because they are passionate and motivated leaders and distributors. They are building teams in the US, Canada, Europe, Australia and recently South Africa and are on the journey of a lifetime while building a sustainable business.

Why become a Doterra wellness advocate?

I found that I really enjoy helping people become successful. The excitement when someone tells me about getting their first cash amount go into their bank account never gets boring. Why wouldn't someone want to help people to be successful. All over the world I see positive changes my Doterra teams lives. And everyday they achieve their goals, make extra money and gain more personal freedom than they have ever had before.

However, before success knocked on my door, I recall, there was a time when things were so bad that I was sitting on the floor of my apartment with nothing but a single lamp and an old TV, eating roast chicken out of a bag.

It is easy to look back with nostalgia and say it was a learning experience. However at the same time it has been ever the sweeter to succeed under my own steam. Sometimes we need a place and time to reflect on what we really want from life and fortunately becoming a Doterra wellness advocate fitted that position.

Below I have laid out the main questions asked me about Doterra

What is Doterra?

Doterra is a essential oils company founded in 2008 in the US and shortly afterward arrived in the UK. They offers a range of therapeutic grade essential oils and related health and wellness products.

Why buy Doterra oils and products?

Doterra is the best place to buy essential oils, UK wellness advocates are known for giving the best service when offering their knowledge and information about the best oils for you.

Where does Doterra operate?

Apart from the United Kingdom, Doterra has already a strong presence in North America, Europe, Oceania, Latin America, Asia and recently in South Africa. Doterra has been trending globally, hence has become one of the best business opportunity for new consultants.

What is my competition?

Doterra is big in the health and wellness industry in the UK and globally. In my opinion, their is nothing to compare with their business plan and the product quality offered by Doterra.

There are only a few other companies doing as well, however the Doterra wellness advocate seems to have a much more sustainable business model that allows them to work for just a few hours a week.

The Doterra Guide to what your get for your £20 enrollment package

The reason I have added this list to my page is because of the amount of people who ask me what they get for their £20.
